MANY GROWERS WANT LOCAL WAREHOUSES TO REMAIN OPEN

Managers Haven't Yet Decided What To Do About Action Taken At Lexington

No decision has been reached as yet by the management of Richmond's two tobacco warehouses whether they will close in compliance with the decision of the meeting of farmers, warehousemen and bankers at Lexington Friday.

Although sentiment among the tobacco men here is almost unanimous in support of the campaign for cut out of a crop this season, there is much favor here, it has developed, for continuance of sales at the local warehouses for some time, anyway. A large number of tobacco men are saying that they must have money, and that the only way they can get it is to sell their tobacco. All of them, of course, are disappointed at this year's price. But all of them agree that few poorer tobacco crops have ever been seen on the markets here, and many are becoming satisfied with what they are getting.

The two Richmond warehouses are distributing a matter of about $20,000 a day in cash to the farmers of this vicinity for their tobacco, and such a sum is going to help business in all lines.

The warehousemen announced when the crisis was apparent, that they did not wish to sell the tobacco of any man who did not desire them to; and further, that any man had the perfect right to reject any price that was offered for his weed. This attitude on the part of the warehousemen here at Richmond has met with the hearty appreciation and co-operation on the part of the growers generally. Those who do not desire to sell are not bringing in their tobacco and some few may take it home, if they can afford to hold it, as undoubtedly many of the farmers of large means can.

Warfield Bennett, of the Madison House, attended the Lexington meeting, and it is understood that he will make a full report to the other warehousemen and farmers here and it will be decided what is to be done. No sale was held Saturday, as the markets are always closed Saturdays.

The Lexington herald's report of the meeting at Lexington Friday, was as follows:

What Was Done At Lexington

A conference with manufacturers to determine if the buyers will co-operate with warehousemen, bankers and growers to avert a total suspension of loose leaf sales until May and a cut out of the 1921 crop, was decided upon by warehouse and financial interests of the burley region in star chamber session here Friday afternoon.

A committee of 12, composed of representatives of the warehousemen, bankers, Burley Association and the growers' convention which assembled here Friday, will ask the "Big Four" tobacco companies, which are Liggett and Myers, American Tobacco Company, Lorillard and R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, why prices offered for burley are so low, what concessions they are willing to make to relieve the situation, what instructions the buyers' agents are acting under, and if they want sales discontinued and the next crop cut out.

A report of this conference will be given by the committee at a joint mass meeting of warehousemen, bankers and growers here Thursday, January 13. Pending the report of the committee warehousemen of the region were asked by the committee to remain closed until Monday, January 17.

One hundred and seventy-five bankers and warehousemen of New York, Kentucky, Ohio, and Indiana representing 35 burley tobacco markets in three states, attended the local session, which was held in the office of James C. Stone, president of the Lexington Warehousemen's Association, following the adjournment of the growers' convention, Friday afternoon.

The sense of the meeting is contained in a resolution framed by representatives of the growers, warehousemen, and bankers and approved by the latter two groups. The resolution follows:

"That a committee of twelve, being three warehousemen, three

SHELBY'S COUNTY ATTORNEY KILLED

Sam K. Baird Shot to Death by D. L. Prewitt Over Divorce Case

(By Associated Press) Shelbyville, Ky., Jan. 8.—Sam K. Baird, 48, acting county attorney of Shelby county, and former county judge of Spencer county, was shot and killed by R. L. Prewitt, 54, a retired flour miller, as Baird was descending the stairs in the Prewitt home at 9:30 this morning.

Prewitt claims self-defense, alleging he believed Baird made a motion if to draw a pistol.

Because of Baird's popularity, feeling is running high and Prewitt was taken to the Louisville jail as a precautionary measure.

Mrs. Prewitt, who is separated from her husband, says Baird, her attorney, accompanied her to the Prewitt home today to secure some personal belongings and was about to leave, when her husband shot Baird.

Baird leaves wife and two children. He was attorney for Mrs. Prewitt, who apparently contemplated a divorce action. Prewitt was heard to say several weeks ago he believed Baird was endeavoring to get Mrs. Prewitt to sue for divorce.

Baird came here two years ago. He was law partner of former Representative George Pickett. Prewitt came here 20 years ago from Perryville and bought the flour mill of Logan & Logan. After the structure was burned he quit business. Prewitt is considered a man of means.

PANOLA

The farmers of this community are very much dissatisfied with the prices being paid for their tobacco, owing to the fact that the prices are much below the cost of production.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brandenburg of Cincinnati, have returned home after a delightful visit with homefolk here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Richardson have moved to their new home purchased from E. E. Baker.

Miss Mattie Broadbush has returned home after a pleasant visit with relatives near Richmond.

Mrs. Lillian Woolery Wells was it Richmond shopping Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Logsdon are the proud parents of a little daughter christened Fern Maxine.

The growers' position and stand in the present situation was explained to the conference by a committee of burley plaiters headed by Judge Prewitt, before the business session began. The growers then retired and bankers and warehousemen occupied separate rooms to discuss the problems. When the situation had been discussed, recommendations of each of the interests were placed in the hands of a committee of six, three from each, for action. This body prepared the resolutions approved by the bankers and warehousemen and turned over to the growers for consideration.

The resolution adopted by bankers and warehousemen in conference Friday afternoon was approved by the growers' delegates when the mass convention of growers' delegates resumed its deliberations Friday night. Another mass convention of delegates was called for 11 o'clock next Thursday morning to hear the report of the committee which confers with the manufacturers.

NEGRO BURGLAR ON WATER STREET

Refuses to Leave at First When Ordered Out of Mrs. Wilcox's Home Late at Night

When Mrs. Wm. H. Wilcox heard a noise on the front porch of her home on Water street near Second about 11 o'clock Friday night, she thought Mr. Wilcox had returned and went to the front door. The door was open and in it stood a big, black, burly negro, who had her pocketbook in his hand.

Of course, Mrs. Wilcox was greatly frightened, but she gamely ordered him out of the house. At first he wouldn't go and acted surlily. However, he evidently thought better of it and left, hastening away from the house, as Mrs. Wilcox locked the door. The pocketbook he secured contained only 75 cents. It had been on a table in the front hall, which the negro had evidently entered.

Mrs. Wilcox did not recognize the negro, but gave a good description of him to the police and they are on the lookout for him.

Mr. Wilcox had been out of town and was expected home on the train about midnight. Mrs. Wilcox left the front door unlocked for him, but happened to sit up late and went out expecting to greet her husband when she heard the negro in the hall.

New Era For Mexico

Gen. Obregon assumes the presidency of Mexico with good auspices, chief among which is the assurance of the United States government that nothing more stands in the way of formal recognition.

Commissioners appointed by President Obregon and President Wilson will soon meet to prepare a treaty. That pact will provide for the payment of all obligations incurred by Mexico during the decade the revolution now ended. It goes without saying that there must be compensation for American life and property destroyed during the turmoil, just as there must be assurance of safety for American citizens and American investments in Mexico hereafter. It may be expected that the treaty will be submitted to the Senate early next year.

Mexico will gain as much as the United States. The damage bill will be big and the future guarantees severe, but no injustice will be done to the country or its people, and it will be set at last on a footing making real progress possible.

Recognition by this country will mean recognition by all the rest. It will mean honorable intercourse with the world again, ability to borrow money, assurance of the development of natural resources. It remains only for President Obregon to continue excellent work already done by President de la Huerta and himself and accomplish the miracle of keeping Mexico in peace and order without making himself an autocrat.

BILIOUS CHILDREN

Black-Draught, Long in Successful Use, Praised by an Arkansas Mother, "Soon Does Its Work."

Marmaduke, Ark.—Speaking of Theford's Black-Draught, which from long use in her household has become regarded as "the family medicine," Mrs. Mary E. Hill, of Route 1, this place, says:

"When the children get bilious, I give them a couple of good doses, and when we have seen stomach, headache, or any liver or stomach trouble, we use Black-Draught. It is an easy laxative, and soon does the work. I certainly think it is one of the best remedies made."

Black-Draught acts on the jaded liver, gently, but positively, and helps it in its important function of throwing out waste materials and poisons from the system.

In thousands of households Black-Draught is kept handy for immediate use in time of need. Prompt treatment often is half the battle, and will often prevent slight ills from developing into serious troubles.

Its well-established merit, during more than 70 years of successful use, should convince you of the helpful effects obtainable by taking Black-Draught for liver and stomach disorders. Get a package today, and keep it in your house. See that the package bears the words "Theford's Black-Draught." NC-141

Condemns Dog to Death;

Owner Seeks a Pardon Akron, Ohio, Jan. 8.—A poodle dog is to meet his death at the hands of the state unless his owner can obtain a pardon for the canine's life from Governor Cox.

The condemned dog bit a child in Barberton a year ago. The child's parents sued its owner Capt. Erling Hotvig, a retired sea captain, for $2,000, but the court awarded $150 only.

Captain Hotvig appealed the case to the supreme court, which affirmed the action of the common pleas court and ordered Judge Fritz to sign an execution order for the dog. The owner of the poodle declared he would appeal to Governor Cox for the dog's life.

Convict Guard Fired

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 8.—Superintendent W. H. Moyer, of the Frankfort reformatory, relieved from duty J. P. Coleman, a guard, on the grounds of neglect of duty. The firing of Coleman took place Friday shortly after he had returned from Harlan, where he testified before the grand jury investigating the death of Miss Lura Parsons. Coleman stated on Friday that he told Deputy Sheriff C. J. Noland of an alleged confession by a convict and on the advice of Noland said nothing to Superintendent Moyer.

The firing of Coleman was made by Superintendent Moyer because he failed to report the confession to him.

DRIVE ON PREDATORY ANIMALS IN ARIZONA

An extensive campaign carried on under direction of the Biological Survey, U. S. Department of Agriculture, against coyotes and other predatory animals in Arizona has resulted in materially cutting down the number of marauders. In one drive near Flagstaff, 340 coyotes were killed in 10 days. Stanley Young, assistant predatory animal inspector, has sent to the survey a photograph of 11 coyotes which he personally noted one day, taken on a poison line laid out the previous evening. To produce these results he used pork-fat baits with 1-grain standard strichnine alkaloid tablets. Part of the carcass of some animal is generally used to attract the coyotes. Large stock raisers have lent enthusiastic aid to the campaign, which, they say, will save tens of thousands of dollars in sheep and young calves.

TELLS OF COLORED AGRICULTURAL WORK

Some interesting facts concerning the work that he is doing among the colored farmers and their wives of the county, are given in the quarterly report of Henry A. Laine, Colored Farm Agent, to the Fiscal Court at its meeting the other day. His report reads in full as follows:

Judge Price and Members of the Madison Fiscal Court: I submit herewith the report of my work as demonstration agent for the second quarter of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921. This quarter has been crowded with interesting and important events—first, during the month of August there was held a farmers' day during the week of the colored chautauqua; second, in September at Shallow Ford there was held a union club meeting with a very interesting program of music and speaking by local talent and visitors from a distance. The speakers confined themselves to subjects relating to home and farm, civic and social improvement. Third, the most important event of the quarter was the agricultural and industrial fair held in Richmond Friday and Saturday, October 15 and 16. The program was the most interesting and important ever carried out here on a similar occasion. The farm exhibit were the best ever seen here and showed clearly that the colored farmers are waking up to the importance of food production and are doing their part in this fundamental line. The canning exhibit was marvelous and included fruits, vegetables and cakes. The department of plain and fancy sewing showed the growing interest and increasing skill of the colored girls and women of Madison county. The display of fancy needle work, including fine quilts, was a dream of beauty, and had to be seen to be fully appreciated. The beautiful patchwork department included many beautiful samples, and showed that this valuable art is still alive and ought to be encouraged among our girls and young women. Fourth, although the principal wealth of the county lies in the farms, yet we find people rapidly leaving the farms and moving into the crowded cities, many of these people having no definite occupation in view. Statistics show that already 52 per cent of all the people in the United States live in towns and cities, while 48 per cent remain on the farm. Cities everywhere are growing at the expense of the farms. It is obvious that something ought to be done to encourage young people to remain on the farm whose future holds for those who remain rich rewards for their toils and sacrifices. This is especially true in regard to colored people, who are natural farmers and home builders. With this view in mind, I have organized six junior agricultural clubs with membership of 160 boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 18 years to take up during 1921 some definite farm product and carry on to a successful conclusion. I feel proud to be one of the 7,000 men and women in the United States who are doing what we can to make rural America a better place to live in. HENRY A. LAINE, County Demonstration Agent.

AUTOISTS ORGANIZING AT LOUISVILLE TODAY

Terstege Says Lack of Good Roads Is One of State's Greatest Drawbacks

By Associated Press

Louisville, Jan. 8.—Lack of a good state road system is one of the greatest drawbacks to the development of Kentucky, in the opinion of Albert L. Terstege, president of the Louisville Automobile Club, who presided at the opening session here today of the meeting called to perfect the organization of the Kentucky Motor Club. Representative citizens from all parts of the state were invited to attend the meeting.

The club was recently incorporated by Mr. Terstege and other men interested in the good roads question.

"Perhaps the greatest drawback to Kentucky today is the lack of a good state road system," said Mr. Terstege in telling of the need of a statewide automobile association. "Such a system cannot be obtained by talking about it. Experience in the past has shown that unless there is an organized body, representative of the whole state to guide and back a state road program, it will not work out satisfactorily."

"In view of the fact that the present program for the building of the State Primary Road System has broken down, this is the best time in the world to begin the organization of a statewide body to see that proper revenue is obtained to help Kentucky out of the mud."

"Another reason for the formulation of an organized statewide body of motorists at this time is to check those extremists who have openly advocated the doubling of the present excessive license fees on automobiles and trucks. Too long has the automobile borne the burden of furnishing practically all of the road funds available for new construction, besides furnishing the only available maintenance fund."

The objects of the club as set forth in its articles of incorporation and outlined by Mr. Terstege follow: "To promote an organization composed of individuals, firms and corporations owning, operating, or interested in automobiles and other motor vehicles; to secure the adoption and enforcement of reasonable ordinances and laws with reference to motor vehicles of all kinds; and traffic by such vehicles; to promote the establishment of construction and maintenance of permanent highways for purposes of traffic by all vehicles; to protect and maintain the lawful right of owners and users of automobiles and all vehicles using the highways; to interest vehicle owners and operators and citizens in general in the principles of 'safety first' as applied to traffic; to promote touring and to obtain and disseminate touring information and the necessary marking of public highways; to endeavor to eliminate the illegal traffic in automobiles; and to engage or cooperate with other associations or individuals in any kind of work or movement which may tend to benefit the motor vehicle owner, user or operator, or with any association looking toward the permanent improvement of highways and to do any and all things looking to such improvements and benefits which may legally be done under the laws of Kentucky."

IN THE MOVIES

Having played in "Nothing but the Truth," and following it up with "Nothing but Lies," it was only natural that Taylor Holmes the inimitable screen comedian, should develop an intense interest in the question of veracity. To demonstrate how deeply ingrained in the human consciousness is the habit of truth, Mr. Holmes during the screening of Aaron Hoffman's great stage comedy "Nothing But Lies," brought to the studios with him one morning a silver medal which he displayed to his company. He announced that he medal would be given as a prize to the member of his cast who could manufacture on the spot or cite from memory, the biggest whopper.

"In playing 'Nothing but the Truth' I became convinced that the telling of the truth is a fine art," the comedian announced. Now in 'Nothing But Lies' it appears that even more artifice is required in the concoction of a falsehood that will pass muster as the adulterated truth."

"Nothing But Lies" will be shown at the Opera House tonight.

Nazimova Here Soon

In "Madame Peacock"

Nazimova will appear Tuesday at the local theatres in two characters each resembling in some measure the great Russian star's own career. The picture is "Madame Peacock" from a story by Rita Weissman, and it brings Nazimova to the screen first as Jane Goring, a resplendent stage star, and then as Gloria Cromwell, a young girl as naive and charming as June is brilliant.

Certainly Nazimova should make this story live, for she has been in the course of her remarkable career both the young girl of great promise and the great actress who has fulfilled promise.

Do you know what the present day Home Service of the American Red Cross is?

Many people do not know that, besides completing the work for ex-servicemen, especially the disabled, it provides the same neighborly service to families in general that it formerly gave families of soldiers, sailors and marines.

"Home Service covers a wide area," says Frederick C. Monroe, general manager of the American Red Cross. "It gives aid to families in solving such problems as budget planning, marketing, tiding over times of financial stress, keeping children in school, helping crippled children, widowed and deserted mothers, children backward in school and children in conflict with the laws. It renders service to the homeless and transient, to the illiterate, to tenement dwellers, to the unemployed, and gives friendly assistance and advice to foreign speaking groups."

In addition to helping families in the solution of their own problems, Home Service helps in strengthening the weak spots in the social life of communities. It joins hands with others to make communities safer, healthier and happier.

Organizing action along lines in which the community is already interested is one of the objects of Home Service.

It has established community meetings, patriotic celebrations, pageants and picnics. Rest rooms, recreation facilities, play supervisors and moving pictures have been provided.

Through Home Service other agencies are induced to bring about improved commercial amusements and better school facilities and to promote traveling libraries as well as to secure county agricultural and home demonstration agents.

If you need assistance at any time, go to the secretary of the nearest Red Cross chapter and describe the situation. Your confidence will be sacredly respected and every possible effort will be made to aid you.

AMERICAN RED CROSS ROLL CALL.

The Fourth Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross will be held this year from Armistice Day, November 11, to Thanksgiving Day, November 25, inclusive. During this period the men and women of the United States will pay their annual dues and renew their membership.

CARD OF THANKS.

HERE'S A BIG OFFER

In order that every family in Madison and adjoining counties may be able to take a daily newspaper and keep up with the tobacco, stock and land sales in 1921, The Richmond Daily Register is making an unparalleled offer to send new subscribers in Kentucky the paper mail daily except Sunday.

ONE YEAR FOR ONLY $2.50

and one year for $3.00 if you are already a subscriber on its list and wish to renew for a year. Subscriptions out of Kentucky will remain at $4.00 a year on account of high postage rates.

Send in your subscription quick. This great offer will only be good until January 31, 1921. After that the usual rates will prevail. Paper has decreased in price a trifle, and The Daily Register has
